Brussels' popular Accessible Art Fair moves to New York

Aspiring artists owe the Accessible Art Fair a huge debt of gratitude. Not only has the initiative, launched in Brussels in 2007, provided a platform for new designers and artists to display their work in Belgium, but it has now branched out to New York. Sponsored by Brussels Airlines, Accessible Art Fair New York presented by MvVO ART will take place from 1-25 November at the National Arts Club with 60 rising stars, including Belgium's Philippe Leblanc, Germany's Frank Pietras and Holland's Jeroen Gordijn.
